An old Baltimore paper of March, 1794, containing a proclamation of Washington, is pasted on the back, framed with glass, the frame is antique and is painted black. This is one of the very rare Washingtons. Brady of Baltimore, one of the oldest and best informed persons in the country, says this is the second one he has ever seen, the other one is in my possession and is valued very highly. He is seated in a military costume, his sword resting on his right arm, holding manuscript, has on the Cincinnati badge, of which society he was president. This engraving was dedicated to Com. John Barry, and the officers of the navy and army of N. America. Fine condition, discolored from age, exceeding rare.
